

Complete Mechanical Services Transcript

I'm Tom Blaha, one of the owners and the President of Complete Mechanical Services. We're involved in just about everything, from any type of manufacturing facility to heavy chemical & industrial, really in the metal trades is where it starts... in the piping, then we graduated into steel, pressure vessels and storage tanks. It's always just that next discipline that you add to yourself.

The goal was to create a company that people were excited about. Not only the management team, but also the employees and our customers.

Our philosophy of how we do business is about the customer, and making the customer happy. We're always looking to be one of the leaders in new technology... to give our productivity an edge.

I've got a great relationship with Commerce Bank. We consider them partners, and I feel like a lot of the things we're involved with, because it's not just about loans and lines of credit, it's their services that have made a big impact here.

They've really been a partner; not just a bank. Not just someone I go to for money, but somebody I consult with.

They're there for any avenue I can think of.
