

Lindsay Martin: Transcript

What I enjoy most about working for Commerce Bank is the people. Commerce Bank is very supportive of their people and their personal development and their growth throughout their career. What brought me to Commerce Bank was the focus I felt they had on mentorship, and personal development. I felt that from my first interview.

Before Commerce Bank, I got my bachelors in accounting at Fort Hays State University, and I started with Commerce the week after graduation.

I find most satisfying about my career at Commerce is the opportunity to change, and continue to grow throughout my career.

I started in one position, and I've had several positions throughout the fifteen years I've been here.

In my opinion, to be successful at Commerce, all you really have to do is have your own personality and be willing to put in the time, do a good job.

Definitely come and join the family, it feels like a family at Commerce, and the people will accept you, and your career here will be great.
